I graduated from Babes-Bolyai University in Cluj-Napoca, Romania. My Masters was in French Philosophy, at the same University. During my Masters and in the following year, I was lecturing at the German Section of the Philosophy Department. I went to Germany for postgraduate research. In 2008 I completed my PhD in Freiburg i. Brsg., Germany. After my PhD, I held various postdoctoral research scholarships in Kyoto (Japan), Bucharest (Romania), New York (USA), Berlin (Germany). Occasionally I taught as a guest lecturer in Cluj-Napoca. In 2011 I was a contract-lecturer for one year at the University of Fort Hare in South Africa.
