

Eze, Chika Eucharia

50-26/02/63

Psychology

chikashcj@gmail.com/chikashcj2002@yahoo.com +27792237777

Nigeria

I work on interpersonal relationship with special interest on the dynamics of identity construction. This involves exploring how individual caught in the web of interpersonal relationship construct who they are and are becoming. As such I am very interested in Narrative, Cultural and Constructionist Psychology. All these helps me to understand our different context contribute to our sense of self. And as an emerging African scholar I hope to contribute to the world of knowledge bringing Africa perspective to on board.

CURRENT RESEARCH

Topic

Identity Construction of Africa Catholic Religious.

Methodology

- Narrative/Thematic analysis

Application

Qualitative empirical research design

UKZN main Publications

1. Eze, C., Lindegger, G.C., & Rakoczy, S. (2012). Catholic Religious Sisters Construction of identity as Committed and Subjugated Workers: A Narrative Approach. In J. Wasserman & S. Reddy (Eds.), Surveying student research in the humanities: proceedings of the 2012 Postgraduate Conference of the University of KwaZulu-Natal College of Humanities, Howard College, Durban 3-4 October 2012.
2. Eze, C.E., (2013). Theological Education for Roman Catholic Religious Sisters in Africa. In I. A. Phiri & D. Werner (Eds.), Handbook of Theological Education in Africa (pp. 315-322). Pietermaritzburg, South Africa: Cluster Publications.

Past Researches

1. Eze, C. E. Identity construction of Catholic religious sisters in the Church in Nigeria. PhD thesis, 2012.
2. Eze, C. E. Family Types and Psycho-Social Adjustment of Students in Calabar Municipality. MA (Ed) thesis 1991.
3. Eze, C. E. Self-concept of High Achievers among Secondary School Students in Calabar Urban Area. BA (Ed) thesis 1988.

Future Interests

1. Research in interdisciplinary context to further explore and understand how the self negotiates identity.

Extra Interests

Spirituality and its meaning to life. Sports particularly in form of daily exercise, listening to music & travels